The Scheme of a Local Bank for this Colony with Branches at the most important places in China, has been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hongkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidly within the last few years that additional Banking facilities are felt to be required.

The Banks now in China being only branches of Corporations whose head quarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefly with the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local trade which has become so much more extensive and varied than in former years.

This deficiency the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company will supply, and will in fact assume the same position with relation to this Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities.

The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong, providing an adequate supply of proper currency, will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the almost certain disappearance of the existing Compradoric system (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive medium for the transaction of the monetary operations connected with trade.

For the anticipated success of this enterprise there are therefore ample grounds; and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shows that the largest profits are obtained by those Public Companies which possess an interested local body of Proprietors or Shareholders whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai and as the importance of its business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a local Board of Directors there for more effectually meeting the work. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other places.

In the distribution of Shares, Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere, who are directly interested in the China Trade.

Applications for Shares must be addressed until further notice, to the Provisional Committee, care of

The North-China Herald.

IMPERIAL, NOT NEUTRAL.

SHANGHAI, SATURDAY, AUGUST 27 1864

THE ingratitude which we so commonly imagine to be one of the characteristics of the Chinese mind would seem to have disappeared, so far as the Imperial court is concerned, beneath the genial feeling of delight caused by the re-capture of Nanking. The restoration of the ancient capital seems to have produced a healthy re-action in the Imperial mind, and to have opened all the channels of benevolence towards the men who have participated in bringing about the triumphs of the Imperial arms. If it be true, as Matthew Ricci informs us, that whenever any keen disappointment weighs on the mind of a Chinese, it is a common thing for him to go mad,* we may find in the continual and disheartening reverses everywhere experienced during the earlier days of the rebellion, a cause for the blindness and insanity which for some years back have been manifested in the native executive. The idea in truth appears extravagant at the first blush. Yet a close examination of the history of the country for the last few years, will lead us to the conclusion that, far from being roused into practical energy by the rise and rapid progress of the rebellion, the central as well as local officials seemed rather to have undergone a partial paralysis of their faculties, which compelled them to yield themselves an easy prey to the spoiler. Thus what the ancient fable asserts of the nightingale—that she dies for very shame if another bird sing more sweetly than she—nay, mutatis mutandis, be applied to the representatives of the Imperial power in China. So long as the Rebellion was borne along on the full tide of success, the attempts made to check its progress were few and feeble. Province after province fell into the hands of the Insurgents, while the garrisons destined for the defence of important positions either went over to the enemy or were slaughtered like sheep without an attempt at resistance. But so soon as with foreign aid the first check was given to the advance of the devastating hordes, a spirit of resistance sprang up in the breasts of the officials and of the people themselves, and the integrity of the Empire which before was seriously threatened was no longer a mere matter for speculation. A new class of men seemed suddenly to spring up, who, without any intense admiration for the foreigner, were nevertheless anxious to secure foreign aid, and to that end were ready to make important concessions. For European influence in China the rebellion was therefore the best security, and this security was absolutely needed at a time when our relations with the natives being of short standing, our motives were liable to be questioned, and our actions misconstrued. It may still be a matter for question whether our influence will not now steadily decline. Time will quickly enough solve the riddle, but, in the meanwhile, the course of events through which we have lately passed justifies us in hoping the best for our future footing in the country. With energetic and at the same time moderate ministers at Peking, with men of recognised talent and eminence to conduct foreign interests at the ports, and with a scrupulous regard to justice in dealing with the central and provincial authorities, there can hardly be a doubt that the memory of past services will stand in lieu of present active exertions in behalf of the Imperial government. The honors heaped on those native princes and high officers who took a prominent part in restoring the safety of the empire, show clearly enough at how high a price the services rendered were estimated. But at the same time neither the government itself nor the recipients of its bounty can forget that to the foreign artillery in reality owe the preservation over which they now congratulate themselves, and that without foreign aid and intervention the existing dynasty would ere now have been overthrown, and the Tartars driven back to their mountain fastnesses. While, therefore, we cannot pronounce confidently on the attitude which in a few years may be assumed by the present government of China, we are safe in conjecturing that so long as the recollection of the inestimable benefits which have been derived from foreign intercourse remains distinct, there will be but little danger of diplomatic difficulties, or of aggressive interference. We have hitherto based our claims to consideration on the actual good we were momentarily doing for the country and government—we may now charitably ascribe one of the cardinal virtues to even the proverbially ungrateful Chinese, and trust to the recollection of favors past as a guarantee for future good feeling.

SUMMARY OF THE WEEK.

THE official minutes of the meeting of Land Renters held on the 18th inst. will be found in another column, together with a letter called forth by the comments which we made on the proceedings in our last issue. In its comment on our remark that the Council had been led to reduce their estimates so excessively in consequence of the factious opposition of a few individuals," it only raises an objection which we anticipated and thought we had disposed of, in our last issue. It was not intended to imply that the Council had deferred to the opinion of a minority, but that the necessity for the sanctioning by the Land Renters of some financial scheme, had become so urgent, that the Council had been obliged to avert all risk of their estimates being rejected by some indirect cavil, which should mislead a majority into supporting it, by reducing them so low—lower than was necessary—in order that no room for evil might be left, even from their opponents. Occasion has also been taken during the week to express regret that any gentlemen should, by threatening members of the Council with legal proceedings in consequence of official acts which were prompted by a desire to discharge their duties efficiently, risk the disruption of the only fabric of government on which we have to rely to preserve order in the settlement. These remarks also called forth a reply, the purport of which appeared to be that, when property was in danger of being reduced in value through the action of the Council, owners could not be expected to remember the fact that the gentlemen composing it performed their office gratuitously; but must adopt any feasible method of protecting their interests. This, however, appears to be a weak reply to our argument that success in any such action as that threatened, would so destroy the prestige of the Council as seriously to weaken it as a machine of government; whereas the object could be attained, if not by correspondence, certainly by bringing the matter before a meeting of Land Renters. If these two alternatives failed, it would be time to resort to legal measures. Various Municipal abuses have been exposed in our columns, and the Council called on to remedy them. Amongst others, the license allowed to beggars to infest every street and quarter every house was especially condemned; and some more stringent measures were advised than the presumably unintelligible proclamation which has been posted, calling on coolies to cease to "Ha-ho."

An enquiry has been held on board the hospital ship Berwick Walls, into the death of a patient who jumped overboard in a fit of delirium during the night. It appeared that the deceased had been last visited by a physician at 9 P.M.; that a friend had sat up with him till 2 P.M. at which time he had left him very depressed and delirious; and that, at four o'clock, he was missing. An open window in the cabin leads to the inference that he had jumped out. It appears that patients, during the night, are left, to the care of a Chinaman, and the Court of enquiry censured this neglect.

The troops whose approaching departure for Yokohama we announced last week, left in the Chusan on the 24th, under the command of Captain Drummond, of the Belochees. The excellent arrangements made by the Captain and officers of the Chusan to secure the comfort of the troops, deserve mention, and the well known kindness and courtesy of the same gentlemen will, should the weather and fates be propitious, secure a pleasant passage for all on board. H. M. S. Perseus left yesterday for the same destination, the Rattler having arrived from Yokohama to relieve her. The latter vessel has been replaced at Nagasaki by the Sevylla.

Intelligence lately received from Hankow states that, notwithstanding the recent successful repulse by the garrison of an Imperialist attack, they are likely before long to be reduced from want of supplies. Rice is nearly exhausted, and every available house has been pulled down for firewood.

Our HANKOW correspondent states that the native merchants at that port anticipate a considerable increase in trade in consequence of the fall of Nanking, and that the price of some articles has already risen. But it is difficult to understand how the reversion to the Imperialists of a heap of desolate ruins can affect trade on the Yang-tsze for some time to come, although the ruins be those of the Southern Capital.

Late HONGKONG papers contain accounts of the wreck of the steamer Snohone on the island of Namoa. She was anchored at the head of the straits when a heavy typhoon came on which compelled her to run to Owick bay, but she appears to have found no little shelter that her cable snapped even when she was steaming full power ahead to ease it. She of course then dashed on shore, and was so severely injured, besides being threatened by Chinese pirates, that her opium and treasure were transferred to the Quantchow and she was abandoned.

THE English mail of the 10th July arrived on the 24th instant by the Orient, which also brought a few days later telegraphic news. The war had been renewed, Asch captured, and Alsen completely overrun. Convinced at last of the impossibility of making head against Germany, Denmark had made overtures of peace which had been so far successful that a suspension of hostilities had been agreed to till the 31st July. The Morning Post had published documents which clearly shewed the existence of a renewed Holy Alliance between Austria, Prussia and Russia, and the effect had been to draw closer the relations between England and France.

THE CAPTURE OF NANKING.

THE following Imperial Edict has been issued with reference to the successful issue of the campaign in the province of Keung-su.

(Peking Gazette, August 1st, 1864.)

PRINCE SENG-KO-LIN-SIN, KWAN, TSENG-KUO-FAN and others have received a despatch by War Office express from Prince Kung, communicating the following Imperial Edict:—

We to-day have received the report of KWAN and TSENG-KUO-FAN, despatched at the rate of 600 li a day, containing the account of the recovery of Nanking and the complete destruction of the whole tribe of rebels there—and have bestowed Our Imperial glance thereon. We are beyond measure deeply gratified, and have issued an Edict for general information that Tsang-kee, have been advanced in rank as an acknowledgement of their services, and SENG &c., have had further marks of Our Imperial approbation.

The Canton rebels have long held a corner of Our Empire at Nanking, opposing our troops, and fiercer rebels have never been. But now Our forces by land and sea have, in the broiling heat of summer, by their courage and unanimity, quickly recovered a strong city, completely extinguished a fierce horde, and taken captive their chief men. Had it not been that Tseng-kuo-fan carefully considered his plans and disposed his troops with judgment, and that Tseng-kuo-chuan and his officers in person loosed arrows and stones in inciting their men to the attack, such wonderful results could never have been accomplished. The joy and congratulations of the court are such as could not be expressed.

In addition to bestowing rewards on Tseng and the rest, We have ordered a list to be drawn out and laid before Us, of the officers and men who have distinguished themselves. This list will await our pleasure. In the meanwhile we have issued 900 medals, which Tseng-kuo-fan and his subordinates are to distribute,—singing out the most meritorious in order to stimulate their courage.

The rebels of every district have been looking to Nanking as a place of refuge, and now that that has been taken from them, the remaining bands, on hearing the news, will lose courage. Accordingly, Prince Seng has directed Kwan at Kuangchow across over to Kiangsee, to watch the coast and stop the flight of the highborn chief of every vestige of the rebels, and prevent their again forming a head. Tseng-kuo-fan has informed Us that his intention was to proceed to Nanking to examine into the state of affairs. As he must by this time have taken up his quarters there, we have directed him to send despatches to the rebel chiefs, Li-tsing-chang and Hung-jen-ta, had they been mere disturbers of the peace need not have been sent to Peking, but as they were especially distinguished for wickedness they are to be forwarded to the capital with all care. After due conviction, the utmost rigour of the law shall be visited on them in order to satisfy the just wrath of gods and men. We direct Tseng-kuo-chuan to tell off a Wei-yuan to conduct Li and Hung, and to write to the authorities of the districts through which they will pass to be ready to furnish escorts, that Our intentions be not frustrated. The Long-haired rebels and the Nien-fei are about have been chosen and given charge of the country, and as when Tseng-kuo-fan has left for Nanking, An-king, which is near the disturbed districts, will be still more my high officer. We direct Fung to reside there and to take measures for the suppression of the rebels. If they show any intention of going eastward, Fung will place his troops on the passes, drive the rebels back and exterminate them. When Tseng-kuo-fan relieves Fung at An-king, Fung will proceed to any place that Tseng-kuo-fan may decide on for the purpose of opposing the rebels. Although on the taking of Nanking so rebels were allowed to escape, in the provinces of Hupeh, Hu-nan and An-hui the rebellion still rages, and there must be no negligence on the lower part of the river. We accordingly direct Fu to carry out Our former decrees, proceed to Nanking and dispose his forces (naval and military) so as to preserve Tien-lin and the surrounding districts. If the state of the Manchu part of Nanking require the superintendence of a high officer, Kwei will proceed thither and concert measures with Fu. Li, Fêng and Kuei will, as formerly ordered, take up their position at Tang-yang, Chu-yung, &c. to guard against the escape of the rebels from the district of Hu-chow; while Tso will direct his forces to advance and relieve the troops from Soochow in reducing Ho-chow and An-chi. Let not a rebel escape. Yang, on reaching Kiang-si, will consult with Shên on all his measures, and rid Tsung-jin, &c. of the bandits.

Now that Nanking is recovered and the rebel power little broken ths, to take advantage of the victory and advance the troops will prove as easy as splitting canes. The above-named high officers must unanimously combine to sweep away the things of evil omen and settle the South-west regions, and thus they will deserve our highest rewards.

As for the occupation of the Hwei-chow and Sin-chi-hsien districts, Fu will settle plans in conjunction with Wu.

Let this be forwarded at the rate of 600 li a day, for the information of all.

Respect this.

I (Prince KUNG) have the honor to forward the above.

I (Li Futai) have a copy of this Gazette to the officers under my authority.

Minutes of Land Renters' Meeting held at the Shanghai Library on Wednesday, the 18th Aug. at 1864.

Present.—Sir HARRY S. PARKES, K.C.B., H. B. M.'s Consul, in the Chair
G. F. SEWARD, Esq.,
U. S. Consul General.

MESSRS. R. C. Antrobus, J. Cock, J. G. S. Coghill, M. D., G. J. W. Cowie, James Cull, Chas Laiun, E. E. Clapp, G. H. Dixwell, L. G. Dunlop, J. Dow, J. G. Dunn, F. B. Forbes, R. Heinsen, E. J. Hogg, H. P. Hansen, T. Hanbury, P. Jenkins, F. B. Johnson, C. T. Jones, W. Kerwick, C. J. King, W. Lemann, F. Loureiro, Robt. Mackenzie, Ed. Marston, W. Probst, W. Pearson, E. M. Smith, J. Thorne, R. R. Tyers, A. Wieters, R. H. Westall, representing 112 votes, and others not Land Renters.

THE CHAIRMAN commenced the proceedings by stating, that at the request of the Municipal Council, conveyed in a letter which he read to the Meeting, he had convened a Meeting of the Land Renters. The Council in their letter alluded to certain difficulties which had arisen in the way of taxation and intimated that they would lay a financial statement before the Meeting for its approval. Their letter, though short, pointed to a great deal of business, and he would suggest to those present that it would be desirable to confine their proceedings as nearly as possible to the subjects that positively called for consideration. The chief of these, it would be seen, was the statement now furnished by the Council of "ways and means." The Meeting would first learn from the Council what they had to say in recommendation of their measures, and would then be at liberty to express opinions on the questions involved.

Mr. ANTROBUS said that in the absence of Mr. Dent, Chairman of the Council, which he much regretted on account of Mr. Dent's longer experience and better acquaintance with Municipal details, it became his duty to place before the meeting the estimates proposed by the Council, and if the Renters would take up the printed statement distributed in the room, he would go through the figures with a short commentary on some of the chief items. Beginning with the Receipts.

Wharfage Dues were estimated at Tls. 40,000 against 42,500 last year, but 37,000 against 42,500 would be a more fair comparison of the real productiveness as of the tax, as last year's amount contained only Tls 3,000 from the Taotai, whereas in the present estimate the full amount of Tls 6,000 was included. The falling off on this tax we clearly distributable to the increased Wharf accommodation on the Hong-qua riot.

Chinese House Tax was estimated to yield Tls. 67,000 against 92,500 last year. The figures of Tls. 113,000 in the last annual report represented the amount of five periods of three months each. The falling off on this tax which was considerable, was of course owing to the improved state of the surrounding country, and the restored tranquility, a consequence of which many of those who were really here only as refugees had returned to their own districts.

European Land and House Tax would probably give an income of Tls. 30,000 against about 29,000 as shewn in the yearly report; but it must be remembered that that sum represented the amount for two years, the collection having been postponed for a time, pending the close of the labours of the Assessment Committee, and that, as a consequence of the postponement of collection in the two years up to 31st December, Tls. 9,657 remained unpaid. It was expected that, in the end, Tls. 7,250 would be collected, but even that was a practical restriction on this source of income of Tls. 1,200 per annum, and this was a case in point of the inconvenience of the Council having no corporate power, for had they possessed it they could have taken measures which would have insured a more speedy collection. This tax was, however, in a pretty satisfactory condition at present.

General Taxes were also satisfactory, yielding about Tls. 21,500 against 11,500 last year. Under this head were included, Pawn, Tavern Licenses—foreign and Chinese—Sampan tax, Market tax, &c. These taxes were all easily collected, weighed heavily upon no class, and contained no objectionable points whatever in the mode of collection. So much for the receipts. On the expenditure side the first item was the Police Force, The 191,600 against Tls 88,350 last year. All would remember that, at the last annual meeting, the Land Renters authorised the Council to spend Tls. 40,000 in increasing the force. Shortly after, they began gradually to increase it until from 126 it rose to 143, but about that same period they began to experience difficulties in collecting the new taxes and they therefore paused, and finding those difficulties continue, had gone on quietly reducing the force until it now stood at 125 or one man less than at the annual meeting. The excess was in all Tls. 13,277, of which Tls. 9,400 was the cost of the before-mentioned temporary increase and all that was spent under the authority for Tls. 40,000; and Tls. 3,877, as the estimated cost of fifteen extra men from 15th September next, to 31st March next, bringing up the force to the number of 140 as strongly urged by the present superintendent. Mr. Pondold, who had now had time to look round him and had now had time to look round him and fully understand the requirements of the place, and who, in the opinion of the Council, most fully bore out the favorable reports of efficiency with which he had been sent out from home. This extra sum and number of men the Council strongly recommended. It must be borne in mind that the present estimate included various items of unusual and extraordinary expenditure such as—

Gratility to Mr. Ramsbottom for his satistory service in command of the force.

ir time and earned a passage.
Also Tls. 3,000 included for similar posi-claims during the present year, and Tls.
00 instead of Tls. 625 as rent of Police arters in Hongqua.
Engineer's Department would cost Tls ,466, or Tls. 1,300 less than last year.
Nuisance Department.—In this, a saving uld be obtained of Tls. 4,263, by the fact at certain functions formerly performed by s department are now done by Chinese, der supervision of the Municipal em-oyés.
Salaries.—In these, there is an increase of s 466.
Office Establishment stands at a lower ure by Tls. 1,655, and now represents all arges. Tls. 2,121 is now charged in this count which, in the last statement, was arged to the Tax which it collected.
Post Office shews a decrease of Tls. 300 t yields a profit of Tls. 1,400. This reducn is owing to the subscriptions having en lowered. It works on the whole, well, d the object to be attained is not so much come from this source as to have the cilities it affords at a reasonable rate afford-by a local institution, as they cannot be herwise obtained.
Interest stands at Tls. 9,563 to Tls. 8,440 d is increased in consequence of the loans ised for drainage purposes.
Under the two heads of works in progress d works recommended, the Council are vinced that nothing is included save what essentially necessary and must be in-rred before the end of the ensuing year. ere is one item not included which it y be advisable to add, and that is the ff cost of carrying out the Bund to the osite width adjoining the Yang-king-ng bridge, in consequence of the desire the French Council to carry the bridge t 50 feet further. This of course increases e cost of the bridge and renders a fresh e of Bund necessary to connect the bridge th the present Bund. The French Council e prepared to pay half the expense of ch item, and the rough estimate of the cost of additional land is Tls. 1,840 W. R. Adamson & Co.'s corner and Tls. 240 to Smith, Kennedy & Co.'s cor-
. Which may be decided on, must part depend on engineering points and the gle at which the new work would join the esent Bund, but Mr. Clark hopes to be le to effect, in a desirable manner, the orter distance and at the lower cost. The on under the head of Works proposed are almost equally nesary with the foregoing, but owing to a nt of funds at their command, the Council ve been forced to exclude them for the esent Cemetery.—The first cost of this also has, similar grounds, been excluded, though was decided at a previous meeting that the uncil should incur and meet the outlay.
sides the question of funds it is thought sirable on other grounds that the manage-nt of this should be removed from the nds of the Council, as it would throw nuisance work and labor on the Engineer's partment, and as it is a work required for e general use of all classes, creeds and na-ons, it is thought that it may be more ccessfully worked under the management an appointed Committee to act as Trus-es for the public. A resolution will be bmitted on this head. Having thus exained the items on both sides, and from unt of resources having excluded these o items, the Land Renters will perceive e Council would be left, presuming their timates to be correct, with a balance in nd of Tls. 969 which all will agree is t enough for safety or comfort in man-ing the Municipal cash account. It is erefore necessary to provide from other urces sufficient for that purpose, and the ouncil think that they do so by collecting e foreign land tax, from this time, at the bening instead of the end of each six months, hich, if adopted, would give additional in-me, say Tls. 9293, during the current year; sides removing some difficulties of collec-n under the present plan arising from anfers of property and similar reasons, d then to increase the 8 per cent on rents s on certain classes of houses, viz., Opium ops and Brothels, to 24 per cent, which y can not only very well afford to pay, t ought to pay in consequence of the ra supervision and Police expense which eir existence gives rise to. By such a mode Taxation the increased burden will be d pretty equally on the Foreign and Native ctions of the community, which appears erfectly fair, especially when we take into nsideration the fact that, bodily to what ch section contributes to the general ex-nditure, the sums are about these—By Foreigners (including Wharfage dues amounting to Tls. 34,000,) Tls. 76,000 By Chinese,..... 92,000
d it may fairly be argued that wharfage es should be regarded more as a current arge upon the business of the port and en-ring into account sales returns in very many tances.
In regard to Hong-que and the state-nt of accounts of that settlement, there s but little to remark. Giving credit for the l share of police expenses provided by this tlement, the expenses of Hong-que exceed-the income by a few hundred taels, and e debt due by Hong-que would be Tls.
61 at the close of the year instead of . 8,201 at which it stood on 1st April.
e Hong-que settlement, he regretted to y, did not nor was it likely to yield e revenue estimated by the Assessment mmittee of last spring, and the difficuls in reducing the old debt chiefly arose m that of collecting a retrospective tax. ving thus glanced over the accounts, it s necessary shortly to allude to the sub-t of the new taxes which had been atpted to be collected and subsequently ntinued, but as the Council had published their letter to the Consul giving their general grounds of action in the matter, his allusion to it must be but brief. Suffice it to say that the Council had considered themselves authorised by the Land Renters to put the new taxes in force, and had therefore commenced their collection, but when some of the householders refused to pay and the Council had to go to the Chinese authorities to enforce payment, those authorities declined to act and the Council found themselves in a great pecuniary dilemma, which rendered the present meeting absolutely necessary even at the inconvenient time the Council had been obliged to call it together. Some of the owners of property to which the new taxes had been applied, were very angry at the matter and the Council now had a compliment paid them which he believed no other Council had ever before received, for they had received formal notices of action at the hands of two Land Renters, through a learned barrister lately arrived from Hongkong. This was, to say the least of it, highly inconvenient, and was another instance of the troubles to which the members of the Council were exposed in their individual capacity, in consequence of the defective organisation and the doubts thrown upon the validity of the Land Regulations. The learned gentleman just up from the south said he could drive a coach and four through our land regulations and all the Municipal organisation. He for one did not agree with the learned gentleman, but it was highly inconvenient and undesirable that matters should be allowed to remain in a state where such opinions could possibly be entertained. He was glad, however, to hear some reason to believe, though he had no authority to state it as a fact, that these actions would not be prosecuted, for those who had given notice of them, though probably exasperated at first, would have reconsidered the matter, and since the taxes had fallen to the ground, would not wish to pursue a course which would give rise to such general inconvenience. He would ask gentlemen, however, to consider the matter, and they would see that under the altered circumstances of the place such occurrences must recur, unless the Land Regulations were revised and made authoritative beyond dispute, and a legal status given to the Municipality.
It was in 1854, when Shanghai was held by the rebels, that the Municipal system was first inaugurated by Mr. Alcock, then Consul here. Up to 1860 matters worked admirably under the management of these gentlemen who managed every thing themselves, and set on foot a skeleton police force. In 1860 the growth of the place and of the native population, in consequence of the disturbed state of the country, rendered it necessary that these gentlemen should be assisted by a paid secretary. In 1862, an Assistant Secretary and an Account-tant were added. In 1863 it was considered necessary to obtain the services of a Civil Engineer of standing from England, and he could but compliment the Land Renters on possessing on their staff so efficient an officer as Mr. Clark had proved himself to be. A collector of taxes was appointed, the establishment of a Nuisance Department decided on, and at the end of the Municipal year the amalgamation of Hongqua rendered a regular Book-keeper necessary, and the appointment of Mr Yung-king as collector of taxes on the other side of the Soochow Creek. It is thus very easy to see that, whilst ten years ago, when all the residents knew each other and the only interests of importance represented in the port were those commercial interests for which it was first opened, every thing worked well and smoothly. We cannot look for this, now that the settlement has so much increased both in the number of foreign residents and of the native population, and when in consequence of this, a diversity of interests has arisen which cannot always work harmoniously together or look on the same measure as beneficial to each of themselves.
The Council, practically feeling the inconvenience of such a state of things, recommend therefore that the Land Regulations be revised and the Municipality legally constituted. The members of it will then know exactly what they have to do, and will have power to enforce performance. As he had expressed himself before, he would repeat that they had no idea or wish whatever of encroaching on the power of either the Chinese or Consular authorities, but merely required a firm foundation to be established from which they might properly and effectively represent the Land Renters. With these observations he would submit to the meeting the first resolution.

"That the accounts laid before the meeting by the Municipal Council be now passed, and that their proposed mode of raising a working balance, and providing a sinking fund for the gradual re-payment of the existing loans by additional taxes on certain houses of entertainment, and by an alteration from this date of the period of collection of the Foreign land tax, be adopted by the Land Renters.

Mr. LOUREIRO seconded this Resolution. An interval having occurred without remark from any member,

The CHAIRMAN observed that, after having waited to hear whether any gentleman present would offer any remarks on Mr. Antrobus' speech, he concluded from their silence that it met with universal approval, otherwise he felt assured that several of the gentlemen present would have addressed the meeting. In his opinion, the Council had laboured hard and practically since last meeting. The Council had now set before the Land Renters a clear statement of their position, and it was evident that the estimates now produced had been very closely calculated, shewing a balance at the end of the year of only Tls. 900, and very few would be prepared to say that the expen-diture could be further decreased. The only increase was in police, and that was a necessary one. Not nearly so many public works were contemplated this year as last; and while the departure of the Chinese into the country caused a decrease in the revenue, the expen-diture had been reduced also, and thus the Council were still within their means. The only question was whether the Land Renters would agree to give them a small working balance. If everything went on as they hoped, a balance of Tls. 900 could only be calculated on, and it was not surprising to hear the Council urge that this was not a practi-cable balance, and that they should propose to make it larger by raising certain additional taxes from two sources. One of these was involved in the proposal that foreigners should pay their taxes in advance instead of in arrear, and the other that houses of enter-tainment should be made to contribute to-wards defraying expenses which they cer-tainly tended to increase. He had no doubt the resolution would be carried with little dissent.

Mr. HANBURY said that, as one of those who specially objected to the first budget brought forward, he desired to express his sense of the moderation of the one now proposed. Being so well satisfied with it, he had not intended to offer any remarks on the present occasion, but he considered that, although the explanations of Mr. Antrobus had been lucid and to the point as regarded the new budget, yet he thought some further explanation was due to the land renters of the late proceedings of the council in the matter of the collection of the new taxes on Houses of public entertain-ment, more especially as those proceedings had resulted in heavy loss to some members of the community interested in Chinese house property. He believed that the resolu-tion of the 30th November last, was merely one laying down the principle that native houses of entertainment should be taxed, but as no distinct scheme was then proposed, he con-sidered it was the duty of the Municipal Council to submit a scheme to the Land Renters before proceeding to collect the tax. Then as to the tax on Chinese household-ers of 8 per cent, which had now been in existence for eight years, he would ask the Council by what authority they acted in abolishing that time honoured impost, and whether they considered it fair or proper that this class of residents should be entire-ly exempt from taxes.

The CHAIRMAN.—It has not been done away with.

Mr. HANBURY challenged the Council to point to any resolution of the Land Ren-ters authorising the abandonment of this tax. The fact was the Council had gone entire-ly beyond their powers in imposing new taxes and abolishing old ones without first obtaining the sanction of the Land Renters, and he trusted some one else present would express their opinion on such proceedings, as it appeared to him a breach (so to say) of their constitution. The meeting had heard Mr. Antrobus strongly express his belief that a charter of incorporation was urgently required; he (Mr. Hanbury) did not think the present was a suitable moment to ask for such a charter, and judging by the experience of the past six months, he should say that, instead of increasing the powers of the Municipal Council, it was much more necessary to keep a proper check on them. The Council had fortunately found it im-possible to levy the extraordinary new taxes they attempted to impose, and having aban-doned the eight per cent legitimate tax, found themselves in a most unpleasant dilemma, and had it not been for the most opportune capture of Nanking and the con-sequent relinquishment by the Taotai of the eight per cent tax due to him and which the Council were thus able to appropriate, the probabilities were that the Municipal government of the place must have been suspended for want of funds. Now that tranquillity was restored to the sur-rounding country, it seemed a pity not to abandon the night pass system, which was a great hardship to the poorer class of Chi-nese and really quite useless as a measure for restraining bad characters.

Mr. ANTROBUS said, in presence of the gentlemen who had given him notice of opinion, he would satisfy himself by saying that he hoped they would consider the Council's letter which had been published as a sufficient explanation. But he was not aware that he could give Mr. Hanbury any further explanation. As to the question of incorporation, he thought the time to press a measure was when its want was felt, and therefore, in opposition to Mr. Hanbury, he thought this was the very moment when it should be pressed. In regard to the pass system, which Mr. Hanbury thought did not work well, the Superintendent of Police, on the other hand, thought it worked excel-lently. The superintendent and his subor-dinates were out all night, at a time when the pass system was working, when Mr. Han-bury, it might be assumed, was more inclined to stay at home. With every wish to meet Mr. Hanbury's views, he could not say any more. The Council considered the new taxes had been authorised. The concession of the Taotai had certainly been opportune, but the Renters would have had the right to de-mand it. But he was astonished to hear Mr. Hanbury speak of it as he had, seeing that he had already proposed that it should be withheld. It was perfectly useless as a rule to allude to anonymous correspondence, but as the letter signed X, which had been published that morning, had reference to Mr. Hanbury's speech, he would make a few comments on it. The letter said the meet-ing at which the subject of additional taxes had been mooted, had passed no resolution on the subject, or at least had said that none was recorded. He (Mr. A.) was sorry if the minutes of that meeting were informal; but a resolution had been passed. It had been written down by Mr. Webb and handed in to Mr. Markham, H. B. M. Acting Con-sul.

Mr. LOUREIRO did not think the tax had been done away with, and proceeded to read a passage from Mr. Gould's letter which said they had kept the 8 per cent, remitting only that tax which was due to the Taotai. Mr. Hanbury, instead of complaining, ought to be very glad, as an owner of house property, that this had been done.

Mr. KESWICK thought the question was not one of convenience, but of authority. He agreed with Mr. Hanbury in thinking the Council had no right to act on their own responsibility in such a matter.

Mr. ANTROBUS begged leave to state that the Council had not done away with the tax. It was part and parcel of the proposal, that the 8 per cent should be remitted, and the additional taxes imposed. In regard to the 8 per cent, the Council had no right to re-mit it and had not remitted it. They had not yet collected it, that was all.

The CHAIRMAN thought the discussion rested on a point of terms. The Council at one time believed that they had sufficient authority for what they attempted, but finding of-rwards that they had not, had dis-continued the collection of the additional taxes. Believing that this had been ascer-tained, he thought it would be better to go on with the especial business of the meet-ing, namely, to ascertain whether the expen-diture that was now proposed met the appro-val of the Land Renters.

Mr. KING noticed that the Chinese contri-buted Tls 92,000 and foreigners 85,000. He would like very much that the Chinese should pay more.

The CHAIRMAN. Can you show us how?

Mr. KING. No. I only make the remark. I think, considering the largeness of their population, the Chinese should pay more.

The CHAIRMAN thought the question was more one of property than of numbers. Besides, in mentioning Tls. 85,000, Mr. King had included the Wharfage dues, which could hardly be considered a tax on foreigners, but rather on the trade of the port.

The Resolution was then put to the meet-ing and carried unanimously.

Mr. ANTROBUS said, as carrying out the previous resolution, he would now propose

That the taxes on certain houses of enter-tainment alluded to in the previous Resolution, viz., opium shops and brothels, shall be fixed at 24 per cent on the Rental.

Mr. E. M. SMITH had much pleasure in seconding this resolution.

Mr. HANBURY wanted to know how the Tls. 7,500 at which the proceeds of the tax on houses of entertainment was estimated, were arrived at.

Mr. ANTROBUS said the Council were of course aware of the rentals of these houses and the sum they yielded when taxed at 8 per cent. Well! this sum multiplied by three gave the proceeds at 24 per cent.

Mr. KING thought this tax was a step in the right direction.

The CHAIRMAN thought the tax on opium shops was equivalent to a tax on taverns, as the Chinaman repaired there to smoke his pipe, much as an Englishman went to his tavern for beer or other refreshment. He thought the Council would, therefore, have been quite justified in imposing a license tax on these establishments, but they appeared to prefer a rate in the shape of an additional tax on rentals.

The resolution was then put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

The CHAIRMAN would remark, in order to guard against the possibility of mistakes, that this resolution should be regarded as conveying the opinion of the meeting that the measure was desirable, and other author-ity was necessary to make it binding.

Mr. COWIE, for the greater protection of Members of the Municipal Council who had rendered themselves liable for loans, proposed

That the Land Renters do assign over to the Members of the Municipal Council, the Land and Buildings known as the Central Police Sta-tion, and now registered in the name of the Municipal Council, as a collateral security for the liabilities by way of loans, which the mem-bers of the Municipal Council have had to incur in their individual capacity on account of the Land Renters.

Mr. JOSEPH THORNE seconded the proposal.

Mr. KESWICK thought it quite unnecessary that the resolution should be put to the meeting, in view of the arrangement for procuring collateral security, which Mr. Antrobus said had met with so much success.

Mr. ANTROBUS would make a few remarks in regard to Mr. Keswick's observations, which would probably lead him to the belief that the proposal was not so unnecessary as he appeared to think it. The first loans which fell due after the embodiment of the new Council had been renewed by Mr Dent and Mr. Cock alone; the other members having refused to sign their names. But the new members had all put their names to the last loan which had been raised, departing from their previous determination. At present the Council had borrowed Tls. 65,000, whereas they only had collateral security for Tls. 45,000. He thought, therefore, that the proposed arrangement would not be consi-dered unreasonable as a merely formal measure.

Mr. KESWICK thought Mr. Antrobus had overlooked a statement which he had made, to the effect that application had not yet been made to all residents to sign the docu-ment giving collateral security. Probably the additional signatures which might be obtained would cover the surplus amount. It was for the Land Renters to decide. This was another instance of deficient organi-sation—that the Council could not sign, as a Municipal body, for the Land Renters.

Mr. DIXWELL would like to ask whether supposing the building in question were made over to the Council, any banker would take the deed as a security.

No one appearing able to answer the question, the resolution was put to the meet-ing. Some doubt existed as to its fate until Mr. Cowie gave the nineteen votes which he holds by proxy in its favour, and immedi-ately carried it.

Mr. DUNLOP, with a view to carry out the suggestion which had been made by Mr. Antrobus, for placing the new cemetery in the hands of a committee, proposed

That as it appears that the Municipal funds will not be able without increased taxation to defray the expenses of the New Cemetery, which before completion will amount to Tls. 30,000, and as it seems desirable that it should be made available for the dead of all nations, creeds and sects, the Land Renters hereby decide that it is well to remove the charge of the New Cemetery from the hands of the Municipal Council of this settlement, and place it in the hands of a general committee to act as Trustees for the public, and that the following gentlemen com-pose the Committee:—Messrs. Forbes, Probst, Cull, Loureiro, Oghill and Mead, and be em-powered to collect subscriptions by way of shares for the completion of the New Cemetery, and also to change the site now proposed if this be found desirable and practicable.

Mr. JOSEPH THORNE seconded the resolu-tion.

Mr. KESWICK understood that the plot of ground which had been selected was at a great distance from the settlement, and would like to hear some explanation on the subject from the gentlemen who had sur-veyed it.

Mr. ANTROBUS said the ground had been purchased on the authority of a meeting of Land Renters. The plot which had been contemplated, in an angle formed by the Defence and Soochow Creeks, could not be ob-tained. The site of the present plot was beyond Mr. Markham's bungalow. It con-tained 100 mow which had been purchased at the rate of Tls. 80 per mow.

Mr. HANBURY, as co-under of the original resolution, was astonished to find that land had been bought at such a distance from the settlement. He thought it would be found very inconvenient, in summer, to have a cemetery three miles away.

Mr. ANTROBUS enquired whether Mr. Hanbury could suggest a better site.

Mr. HANBURY thought a plot on ground out-side the West gate of the city would be pre-ferable, except as regarded its disadvantage in respect to water communication.

The CHAIRMAN thought the objection might be obviated if another site could be found, as the purchase had not absolutely been concluded.

The resolution was then put and carried unanimously.

Mr. JOSEPH THORNE hoped the gentlemen composing the committee would endeavour to fix on a site as soon as possible.

Mr. E. JENNER HUGG, with reference to a resolution passed at the meeting of Land Renters held at H. B. M. Consulate in No-vember, 1863, providing that Municipal ac-counts should be laid before the Land Ren-ters half-yearly, proposed

That the accounts of the Municipal Council for the year then expiring, and the estimate of income and expenditure for the year then next ensuing, shall be laid before the Land Renters only at each annual meeting to be held in the month of April each year, and not half yearly as decided at a meeting of Land Renters held on November 30th, 1863.

This was seconded by Mr. FORBES, and carried unanimously.

There being nothing more before the meeting, Sir Harry Parkes congratulated the gentlemen present on the amount of business that had been transacted, and the meeting separated with a vote of thanks to the Chairman.

THE LAND RENTERS' MEETING.

SHANGHAI, 22nd August, 1864.

To the Editor of the NORTH-CHINA HERALD.

SIR,—In the leader of the budget which ap-peared in your paper of the 20th inst., I thank you do the Municipal Council an injustice by sup-posing that the "factious opposition of a few in-dividuals" was sufficient to induce the Council to make the wholesale reduction in the estimates which were presented to the meeting of Land Renters of the 16th inst.; for had the ma-jority of the Renters been in favor of the pro-viously proposed Taxes, the Council would surely not have given way to a minority. They might have had other reasons for abandoning the Tls. 240,000, by which the native taxes have been reduced in the present Budget, for had they not learnt that the Chi-nese authorities (the only authorities that can give power to tax natives) had refused their sanction to the proposed measures? Did the collection of these Tls. 9,000 (a fatal error which appears to have been condoned by the Land Renters, but which will probably be a use-ful caution to future Councils) give them infor-mation on which they could pronounce that their estimates were founded on sound principles? and would the Council be prepared to state that the opposition which was offered to the original scheme, did more than render apparent obsta-cles which were already in existence, and which would sooner or later have caused its abandon-ment? I cannot agree with you in thinking that any Land Renter is actuated by a spirit of factious opposition. It does by no means follow that be-cause, on certain points, some of the Residents do not agree with the Council that they are necessarily "dissatisfied with everything." Both the Land Renters and the Municipal Council will, I am sure, be glad to accept the po-sition in which the meeting of the 16th instant places the questions which have been solving under discussion, without too closely examining the process by which the result was been brought about. The only portion of the Budget which was subjected to adverse comment was the charge for passes, the pass system being proposed to bear heavily on the poorer classes of respectable Chinese residents. This is a class which is cer-tainly entitled to the consideration of the Land Renters, and it is not surprising that it found an advocate. That it is a harassing to a respectable class is a valid objection to the system, although it may be counterbalanced by the good effects which, we are informed, obtain under the notice of the superintendent of police. It is not to the interests of foreigners to avoid the discus-sion of any point in the measures which are brought before the meetings of Land Renters. Even theoretical objections are admitted in all deliberative assemblies until shown to be practi-cally unsound, and there is a theoretical objec-tion to the pass system (not mentioned at the meeting) which is only to be overcome practi-cally, by a large, efficient and well disciplined staff of police constables and officers. The temptation which the working of the system offers to the men of the force whose duty it is to carry out its provisions on their night beats, is a matter which has doubtless not been overlooked by the Council and the Inspectors of Police. The result of the last meeting cannot fail to have been satisfactory to all present, inas-much as a Budget has been agreed to, which will enable the municipal business of the settlement to be proceeded with, with regularity, until the Spring. It would have been gratifying to have been able to spend the large sums proposed on public works, but I believe that events will prove that the Land Renters were not wrong in post-poning these pressent measures to a future year.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

A LAND RENTER.

GABRIEL.

MESSRS. GABRIEL ON THE LOSS AND RESTORATION OF THE TEETH.

HARLEY-STREET, CAVENDISH-SQUARE, AND LUDGATE-HILL.

THIS is a new edition of a work already highly popular, and as a treatise on the teeth, which every body can understand, should be in the hands of all who desire to possess one of the greatest beauties of the face, and one of the most necessary set of organs to the health and comfort of the body—a good set of teeth. As mastication is the most important operation of, and one of the most conducive to, perfect digestion, and as both nutrition and health depend on the proper performance of that function, the necessity of having good and effective teeth becomes, to every one who consults his health, a matter of paramount importance. Among the practical benefactors to the science of Dentistry the Messrs. GABRIEL and entitled to take high ground, not only for the service they have so long rendered to so large a portion of society as established practitioners, but for the numerous inventions and practical improvements they have effected in theory and manipulation of their art, especially in the patent Osteo Eidon and coralite gums, and indestructible mineral teeth, which, in point of beauty and durability, are unsurpassed, remaining unchanged for years, and known, indeed, to outlast several sets of artificial teeth. A strong confirmatory proof of the efficacy of Messrs. GABRIEL'S patented teeth will be found in the above treatise, in a certificate from professor Pepper, of the Polytechnic, on their texture, power of resistance, and chemical purity. From the "Era" of January 2nd, 1864.—As may be seen by reference to our advertising columns, Messrs. Gabriel supply Artificial Teeth on their patented system irrespective of distance or climate.

NOTICE.

HIS Excellency the Governor of Nagasaki having conferred with the members of the Consular Corps at this port, hereby notifies the Masters of Ships that at the entrance of the bay of Nagasaki their vessels will be examined by a body of Sanitary Commissioners consisting of a physician and Japanese officers. The Commissioner's boat will fly a yellow flag as a sign of distinction. In proceeding on their way into the bay the masters will have to give satisfactory answers to the questions addressed to them.

On their declaration that no cases of sickness likely to endanger the public health exist on board they will at once receive a free Bill of health and they can come to the usual anchorage.

In the contrary case they will receive instructions from the Commissioners to anchor at the head of the harbor, the limits of which will be indicated by the presence of a Japanese boat flying also a yellow flag.

In that case information will be sent to the Consul of the nation to which the vessel belongs and the master will have to await his instructions without holding intercourse with anybody.

On the discovery of a false declaration having been made to the Commissioners, the master who had come to the ordinary anchorage will be ordered to return to the limit indicated with the request to conform to the rule. This makes him liable to a fine fixed according to the importance of the case.

manufactures, which from their great superiority have become so universally celebrated, are obtainable from every respectable Provision Dealer in all parts of the world. Purchasers should insist upon having C. & B.'s genuine articles when they ask for them, as it is not unusual for unscrupulous dealers to substitute inferior preparations.

C. & B. invite special attention to the following, the quality of which is of the highest standard attainable.

PICKLES prepared in pure malt vinegar.

BOTTLED FRUITS for Tarts, Puddings, &c.

JAMS AND JELLIES, Marmalade, Fruits in Syrup, Crystalized Fruits. Prepared Calf's-feet and other table Jellies; Vanilla and other Creams.

PURE MUSHROOM CATSUP. Essence of Anchovies, Harvey's, Reading, Soho, Royal Table, and other choice Sauces. Essence of Coffee. Flavouring Essences. White Wine Vinegar. Durham Mustard.

SALAD OIL, the finest imported.

POTTED MEATS, Anchovy Paste, Bloater Paste. Patent Preserved Hams, Cheese, Bacon, &c. Oxford and Bologna Sausages. Yorkshire Game Patés, Yorkshire Pork Patés. Mackarel in Sauce, Kippered Herrings, Pickled Salmon in Bottles, Fried Eels, Herrings a la Sardines. Blackwall Whitebait, Fresh Oysters, Asparagus, and a great variety of other table requisites and delicacies, particulars of which will be found in their detailed Lists.

C. & B. are Special Agents for LEA & PERRINS' WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE, PHILIPPE & CANAUD'S SARDINES, SOYER'S SAUCES, RELISH AND AROMATIC MUSTARD, CARSTAIRS' SIR ROBERT PEEL'S SAUCE, GRIMWADE'S DESSICCATED MILK, and for MASSON'S FRENCH CHOCOLATE.

To guard against frauds, consumers of C. & B.'s Preparations should purchase only from those dealers on whom they can fully rely; and should be particular to have all bottles and jars destroyed when empty, and the labels defaced. Every article sent from the Manufactory, bears on its label the address,

CROSSE & BLACKWELL,

Purveyors to the Queen,
